GC may annex Gorbe homes

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record
David Morgan, chairman of the Granite City Plan Commission, said Thursday afternoon the possible annexation of a strip of Maryville Road (see related story) would serve another purpose long anticipated by the city—the automatic annexation of Gorbe subdivision streets remaining outside the city.

"I just look at it as closing the gap," Morgan commented later.

He said that if a request is made and approved to annex property owned by the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank on Maryville Road and Buegner Boulevard, that will close the last link between the Gorbe residential area east of Johnson Road and the remainder of Nameoki Township.

"We'd completely surround the Gorbe addition," Morgan said in discussing the city limits. Such an encircled area would find itself automatically a part of the city.

Approximately 60 homes could be affected by annexation of the portion of Maryville Road adjacent to the subdivision. The area involved includes Palm, Redbud and St. Bernard avenues and the parts of Gary, Clark and Edgewood avenues not now within the city.

Building Inspector Michael DeRuntz said the idea to possibly annex the property is not intended for the purpose of annexing the Gorbe addition, which would just be a related occurrence.

DeRuntz said that last summer, when one resident on Gary Avenue requested annexation of his house into the city, he unsuccessfully talked about eight other residents about also annexing. DeRuntz said some residents of the Gorbe area expressed an interest in city annexation when faced with Madison County sanitary sewer rates of $15.80 a month, but lost their enthusiasm when they realized their property would remain a part of the sewer district regardless of annexation.

The building inspector said he tried to persuade some residents on Gary Avenue to annex by listing the benefits of city residency, such as library privileges and trash collection, but that these factors apparently were not enough to sway them.

Both those inside and outside the city's limits are required to pay the School District Nine tax, which accounts for more than half of the residential property tax. Assessing uniformity in various townships is sought by the county government, which enforces it by setting township multipliers.

Even though some Gorbe families may object to annexation into the city, DeRuntz said, some residents in the Buegner area may benefit if the bank site is annexed.

Some now expressing an interest in annexation are not eligible because their property does not touch the city boundary line. Those properties could be brought into the city upon the property owners' request. If the Maryville Road-Buegner Boulevard site is annexed, he noted.

Among other matters considered by the Plan Commission Thursday was the zoning classification of a piece of property on Johnson Road being handled by Realtor John Krekovich. The property has been the subject of a zoning court battle won by Krekovich, who sought to sell the lot for commercial development.

The board decided not to force a change of the property back to residential status, according to the zoning classification of that location under the city's new zoning laws.

City Engineer Monte Brewer said the issue may again become a matter of dispute when any future purchaser of the property applies for a building permit for the property.

According to Board Attorney Robert Hennessey, the judge in the zoning court case ruled the land available for commercial use, making no use restrictions.

Commissioners decided to wait and see what type of use the owners of the property will request before deciding what course of action to take.

Zone law change key to annexing bank site

Attorney Leo Konzen, representing Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, proposed Thursday amending Granite City's new zoning ordinance to put financial institutions in a zoning category that presently includes professional offices.

He said banking services would be compatible with nearby homes. A two-acre site under discussion is now in Nameoki Township just outside the city limits on Maryville Road at Buegner Boulevard.

Konzen requested the approval of the Granite City Plan Commission on Thursday afternoon for a public hearing July 8 on the proposed zoning amendment. He submitted a sample amendment to the commissioners.

It would change the C-4 central business district zoning required for the establishment of banking and most financial facilities. Instead, such businesses would have C-1 commercial office zoning.

The attorney said the site on Maryville is owned by the Granite City Trust Bank, which plans to make use of it.

A relatively new state law allows banks to expand their operations by developing additional facilities. Konzen said Granite City Trust proposed that not be the only bank seeking locations and zoning in the city.

He related that under new Granite

Dan Partney resigns county board before surrendering

DANIEL PARTNEY

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"I am finished with politics and I don't have any desire to get back into it," was how Daniel Partney of Granite City announced Thursday that he is resigning from his District 21 seat on the Madison County Board, effective immediately.

The resignation came just six hours before Partney surrendered to Granite City police on warrants alleging battery and violation of the Illinois Domestic Violence Act from an alleged incident the previous night.

Partney, age 32, indicated in his resignation letter to Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City that, "Recent publicity regarding my personal life has caused me to reflect on the representation of the district." He contended that the publicity of his recent divorce, custody fight and allegations he contends were related to the divorce have "severely hampered my ability to adequately fulfill those concerns."

A replacement for Partney's term, which ends in November, is expected to be named Wednesday morning by Hagnauer during the county board's regular June meeting in Edwardsville. Partney submitted his resignation letter to Hagnauer Friday after notifying the board chairman by telephone Thursday of his intent to resign.

He notified the Press-Record at 11:30 a.m. Thursday and stated, "I never, ever will be a candidate again. Politics is far out of my life." He did not indicate whether or not he was aware of pending warrants for his arrest on complaints signed by his former wife, Mrs. Beverly Partney, 2601 Edison Ave. At 5:40 p.m. Thursday, he reported to the police building and was booked on the two warrants. He posted cash bonds and was released.

Authorities said a protection order had been issued by Associate Judge John Williams on April 12, directing him to remain away from Mrs. Partney's home.

She alleges that he went there at 12:35 a.m. Thursday and his auto followed hers into the driveway. When she drove into the garage and activated the automatic garage door, he drove the hood of his car into the garage opening, preventing the door from closing, she told authorities.

She alleges he then entered the garage and forced her to open a car window after he attempted to break the window with his feet. Abusive language was used by him and he pulled her from the auto with her head striking the top of the left front door, according to her complaint.

Officers said there were shoe heel marks on the car door window and Mrs. Partney had a 2½-inch cut on the right side of her forehead.

In his call to the Press-Record Thursday, Partney cited as reasons for his resignation from the county board business commitments (he is a vice-president of Granite Sheet Metal Co.) and the fact that he has moved out of District 21 since his divorce. "A shift in my priorities" is how he described the resignation.

However, in his letter to Hagnauer, Partney indicates that adverse publicity is the main reason he is resigning and he indicates that he wanted to resign until Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber abandoned an investigation against him.

Weber was quoted as saying he was investigating allegations made by Mrs. Partney that she saw Thomas Brimberry give Partney a large bundle of bills during Partney's last campaign for mayor and, she contended, he did not claim the money on his campaign disclosure forms.

Weber has told reporters that his investigation has been abandoned. Partney notes in his resignation letter to Hagnauer, "At this time, I am advised through the media that the state's attorney has abandoned an investigation of allegations directed at my activities. I know of no other investigation by any authority of myself."

Donald Rea invites sewer committee to inspect his home

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record
Pontoon Beach Village Board Trustee Donald Rea—targeted by an assistant state's attorney to be the first visited if search warrants are obtained to check for illegal county sewer tap-ons in the Quillet Valley subdivision—on Friday suggested a way to solve a situation he says has been blown out of proportion. Rea told the Press-Record he will ask that the Madison County sanitary sewer Special Service Area 1 committee, at the conclusion of its 7 p.m. June 23 session in Mitchell, to join him at his home to determine for itself if he is diverting storm water into sanitary sewer lines.

The trustee said he is in full compliance with the county sewer ordinance.

Rea's name had been singled out by Marshall "Zeke" Smith, assistant state's attorney, at a sewer district meeting last week.

Smith, legal adviser to the County

Board and its committees, announced his intention to send a second warning letter to Quillet Valley homeowners who have not yet had their homes inspected for illegal tap-ons.

Smith said he will seek search warrants later this month for Quillet Valley residents who have not responded and arranged with Superintendent Gene Futch for an in-house sewer line inspection.

Futch said about half of the 147 homeowners there have responded to previous requests for permission to inspect their homes for improper use of the sewer system. He estimated that, of that number, about 10 homes were in violation.

Rea said he does not consider himself uncooperative, although he acknowledged he did not respond to a May letter sent by the district, requesting that he make an inspection appointment.

He partially attributed his lack of response to what he considered an earlier rebuff by the district superintendent.

Rea said that when the first request was made by the county for residents to sign up for the home inspections, he volunteered to smooth angry residents' feelings—they are unhappy with the cost of the sewers—by accompanying Futch on inspections set up by Rea.

According to the village board member, he had lined up 12 previously objecting homeowners for house inspections on a Saturday in May, but Futch failed to appear, later suggesting the idea be dropped.

Futch, however, disagrees. He said Rea had attended a meeting that Saturday morning and was to contact him when the meeting was over so the inspections could be conducted.

Futch said he was never contacted, and never suggested dropping the inspection compromise proposal.

Rea says he has questioned the entire Matosian for attempted murder in the Feb. 16 wounding of Woods, who was hurt seriously and underwent surgery. Woods testified from a wheelchair, and it was related that the bullet had creased his spine, paralyzing him from the waist down.

Early retirements will make room for younger educators

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Advance retirement plans approved for 18 administrators and teachers this month, effective 12 and 24 months from now, will make room for younger educators in Granite City School District Nine.

Supt. B. J. Davis believes that early knowledge of pending retirements will enhance the "fine tuning" of faculty size—a task carried out to balance the staff in terms of enrollment and revenue.

And it will enable some of the 1983 and 1984 staff cutbacks to be achieved without honorably dismissing so many young faculty members. Dismissals have not been ruled out, however, and may be numerous.

The Granite City pattern in recent years, conforming to the Illinois School Code, has been to take board action each March, dismissing as of June the teachers with the least seniority, if it is necessary to have a smaller staff for the next term starting in August.

During the spring and summer, many of these honorably dismissed are reinstated as vacancies develop through retirements, resignations, deaths, illnesses, leaves of absence or student enrollment gains.

Factors prompting dismissals in the 1970s and 1980s have been enrollment decreases, school closings and deficit spending.

The Board of Education learned this month that borrowing is likely to increase from the present $2,863,000 to a record total of $4,000,000 between June 15 and Aug. 31, 1982. The current operating debt ceiling that has been authorized is $4,763,000, not far from the maximum legal borrowing limit, officials noted.

Two executive sessions on personnel and legal matters were held during the June 1 meeting of the Board of Education, sandwiched between three regular sessions that started at 7:30, 10:25 and 11:55.

Supt. Davis said later that the district has been seeking to encourage early retirements by creating incentives.

Examples of incentives are early payments for unused earned absences, plus a "bonus plan" that is no longer in effect, extension of medical-leave benefits through the age of 65 for retirees younger than that, and other contract provisions and district policies.

Payment for his or her unused earned absences during an employee's final year or two or three increases the individual's income for that period of time; the earnings are then considered in determining the individual's pension level.

Most of those announcing future retirement plans have indicated they will make use of the school district's offer to apply unused sick leave to their salaries for the next one to three years. Many are meeting requirements outlined by the Illinois Teachers Retirement System to qualify for early retirement pension benefits.

Retirement at the nominal time also is an option open to teachers and administrators, although some say "the handwriting is on the wall" regarding future staff needs in view of a continuing loss in the number of students, attributed to the economic recession and to smaller families.

One discussing retirement commented on the board's agenda, "I am contemplating retirement at the end of the 1982-83 school year. Therefore, I wish to participate in the district's early retirement unused earned sick leave program."

Another said, "Since I am planning to retire at the end of the 1983-84 year, I wish to take part in the program for early distribution of unused earned absence pay beginning in 1981-82 and ending in the 1983-84 school year."

Some of those planning to retire have more than 30 years of service in District Nine.

Although many of these veteran employees have expertise that will be missed, school officials have been concerned about the district's inability to hire new teachers, while at the same time dismissing a number of young teachers who began their careers in the past several years.

The worry here and elsewhere is that many persons trained for educational professions instead are finding faculty doors closed to them and are entering other lines of work.

Repeated over a series of years, such a situation could tend to eliminate part of an entire generation of teachers.

When hiring of brand-new teachers resumes at some future time, the makeup of the staff may be half young and half old, with no teachers in the middle of their careers, educators fear.

It was in recognition of this outlook that officials began amending retirement provisions, Supt. Davis said this week.

"About one or two years ago, the Illinois legislature established early retirement for teachers without loss of pension benefits, effective at age 60 or older. It also allowed retirements from 55 and 59 with some reduction in the pension level," the superintendent recalled.

Effective in 1981-82, the Granite City school district adopted early teacher retirement at age 60 or older, with 20 or more years of experience.

"For those with extensive unused sick leave, generally more than 120 days, we authorized distributing the pay over one, two or three years. This enables those as young as 52 to begin making definite advance retirement plans."

"This early information will simplify our planning, and the early retirements will reduce the need to honorably dismiss faculty members."

"Retirement is based on the average income of the best four consecutive years of employment in the last ten years."

"The portion of income that is paid in the form of a pension varies considerably, depending on the number of years of service. For those credited with 37 years of work, the retirement formula is 75 percent of the income average."

The viewpoint of one of the early retirees is as follows: "I wish to participate in the early distribution of unused earned absence pay. When I leave, I know I will miss my many friends and co-workers. But I won't miss the daily schedule, especially when I am in Florida basking in the sunshine and reading about the 'snow days' in Granite City."

Mrs. Ruth D. Lahr, an administrator, advised the district that a year from now "I will take with me many pleasant memories of my 36 years in the field of education. Some of my ex-students are now teaching in the district and I am very proud of them. The time has come for me to plan my exit and make an opening for a younger prospective educator."

Another administrator who will be retiring in June 1983, Vasil Efimoff, has served the Granite City district in more than one capacity. He is a former Board of Education member, having taught out-of-town while holding office as an elected board member here.

Efimoff's comment: "I express my appreciation to the parents, who have entrusted their children to me; the taxpayers, who have consistently supported an exceptional education system; and the boards of education in their exemplary decisions on setting policy, professional and non-professional staffings, and conducting school business affairs prudently."

"To the community agencies and my co-workers, I thank them for the patience and endurance of me and their contributions to my professional growth and development. I leave a highly competent secretary and professional staff who will continue to develop our excellent programs for the children."

Rankin gets leave to direct new SIU center

Duane Rankin, director of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center since its inception in 1968, will direct a newly-created Area Adult Vocational Service Center on the Edwardsville campus of Southern Illinois University next year.

The Venice Board of Education at its meeting last week approved a one-year leave of absence for Rankin.

Peter Ponce, an instructor at the adult educational facility in Venice for the past 10 years, was appointed by the board to serve as VLTC interim director.

According to Venice Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers, the Illinois State Board of Education this year has decided to reduce the number of adult vocational service centers in the state and will consolidate the five current facilities into three major centers in 1982-83. Rankin will be responsible for establishing and developing the center at SIUE, which has been funded by the state for fiscal year 1983.

HOME BURGLARIZED

A burglar obtained a portable radio and cassette player at the home of Monica Smith, 1709 Delmar Ave., last week. Also taken were a case of beer and packages of hamburger, pork steaks, hot dogs and sausage.

The Natural Habitat opens in Crossroads

By MIKE MOORE
of the Press-Record

"We want to give the people the most nutritional food possible by offering personal service to every customer," said Linda Craft, owner and manager of The Natural Habit, a new health food store located in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

Carrying a full line of nutritional food, from organic pop corn to whole wheat pasta and from tanning lotion to lollipops, can be found at the center. The store also carries a wide variety of vitamins for children's and adults' muscles and food for special diets due to allergies and diabetes.

Miss Craft explained that there is no middle man involved, therefore prices are reduced. The store contains 72 bulk drums of food, allowing the consumer to inspect the food and buy the exact amount he wants.

Vitamins and minerals also are discounted.

"Nothing in The Natural Habit contains refined white sugar, artificial coloring or preservatives. A fruit called carob is roasted and used as a chocolate substitute while honey replaces sugar," said Miss Craft.

During the summer, she plans to start programs and clinics designed to promote good health and educate the people. Cooking classes and children's programs are a few ideas in store. In the Belleville Natural Habit, children presented a show entitled, "If You Love Me Don't Feed Me Junk." Miss Craft hopes to continue programs like this one.

She would like to speak about health food to schools, churches, senior citizens and various organizations. Anyone interested in a seminar may contact Linda Craft at 877-9926.

During the holidays, special foods and gifts are available. Christmas decorations and stuffed animals can be purchased for a Christmas gift.

The Natural Habit opened May 24 and is open Mondays through Fridays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

FOR GOOD HEALTH. The Natural Habit, a new health food store, has opened in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and carries a line of organic foods, treats and vitamins. Linda Craft is owner and manager of the store.

O'Guin Chapel is named for 68-year local pastor

The Rev. C. M. O'Guin of Madison is being honored at the 68th annual meeting of the Illinois District Council of the Assemblies of God today.

The chapel in the state headquarters building at the Lake Williamson Christian Center in Carlinville will be named in Rev. O'Guin's honor. A portrait of Rev. O'Guin will be presented and placed in the chapel.

Rev. O'Guin was born in Flatwoods, Tenn. He obtained a license to preach from the Assemblies of God in 1914.

He was ordained into the ministry in 1915 by the Rev. E. N. Bell and the Rev. J. W. Welch, first and second general superintendents of the International Assemblies of God.

Rev. O'Guin moved to Granite City in 1919 to pastor the church that became First Assembly of God at 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

On May 4, 1929, the state of Illinois became a district for the Assemblies of God. Previously, it had been combined with several other states.

At the same meeting, a chairman or superintendent was elected to serve the Illinois District. Rev. O'Guin was voted into that position. He served for six years in that capacity while leading the local church.

Rev. O'Guin was again elected as district superintendent in 1938 and served until 1942.

In his preparation for the ministry, he attended itinerant Bible schools taught by elders for the benefit of young ministers. He attended Xenia Seminary, a United Presbyterian school in St. Louis.

Rev. O'Guin says, "Back in those days, ministers would get thrown in jail for disturbing the peace. For some reason, they came to me to get them out of jail."

"At that time, the state's attorney would try to push me around, so I decided to go to law school," Rev. O'Guin attended the St. Louis College of Law and Finance, located at Grand and Olive.

That school merged with another and became a part of Washington University.

Rev. O'Guin has written two books, "Special Occasion Helps for Ministers," published by Baker Book House and "Basic Homiletical Studies," which, as he puts it, is "for beginners in the study of homiletics, written in cornfield language."

Rev. O'Guin is married and has two children. His daughter, Naomi Davis, resides in Freeport, Ill., and is a secretary for the Micro Switch Division of Honeywell Corp., a position she has held for more than 20 years. His son, Andrew, is a school teacher in Long Beach, Calif.

In August 1960, the City of Madison bestowed the honor of most distinguished citizen on Rev. O'Guin.

He writes a question and answer column entitled "Bible Light on the Subject" for the Pentecostal Messenger, a monthly magazine published in Joplin, Mo.

Student loan plan by First GC National

First Granite City National Bank has joined with 26 of the top student loan banks in Illinois in a cooperative effort that will provide capital to finance the purchase of student loans and assure the availability of such loans.

"Demand note and line of credit financing are not new," a spokesman said, but they are gaining attention as economic conditions for both government and investors change.

"On May 24, the Illinois State Scholarship Commission offered its cooperation with a $35,000,000 financing program."

The spokesman added, "This financing vehicle is made up of two parts. The first is a demand note and the second involves lines of credit to support the entire amount of the demand note."

"Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York has provided a demand note for up to $35,000,000. On June 10, the procedure was completed by securing lines of credit from First Granite City National Bank and 12 other institutions."

"Earlier in 1982, other banks provided credit for a $34,750,000 demand note."

"All of the Illinois banks participating in this type of financing provided a total of more than $66,000,000 in student loans in the last year."

Urge lease of data equipment

By JIM SCHLUETER

Whether Madison County retains its current level of data processing equipment or expands its automation, county data processing director Pat Morrison says the county can save up to $36,000 by leasing IBM hardware.

Although the county owns its software programs, it leases nearly all of its hardware and the five-year lease expires in February. Morrison spoke this month before a joint committee of the county's finance and central services committees, also attended by county department heads and officials.

Morrison said he contacted four companies and received offers from IBM and Sperry Univac. The county's existing software will fit on IBM equipment without adjustments to the software programs.

"What IBM has done is they have not allowed themselves to be put in a corner," Morrison said.

"Other systems can be put on their equipment, but the other vendors haven't done that."

Although Morrison said a cost estimate will not be given until IBM representatives meet with the finance and central services committees, he said it would cost an extra $36,000 to convert current county programs to the Sperry Univac equipment.

He also said his department staff would need to attend classes which cost from $380 to $900 a student if Sperry Univac computers were chosen.

Many county board members are hopeful that data processing will help cut costs as the county faces budget reductions in 1983. Morrison received permission this spring to move into bigger offices, and he said his machine usage has increased from eight hours a day in 1980 to 16 hours a day in 1982.

If the county plans to expand its use of data processing in the near future, Morrison said, it should get new equipment instead of keeping the same level of hardware.

"Our new payroll system and general ledger system will put an immediate strain, and it could affect all other departments," Morrison said. "It could mean a 24-hour a day operation."

or my actions, including the federal authorities.

"You can understand my desire not to resign under a threat which might have led to an implication of guilt of criminal activities, of which I have been innocent at all times. My esteem for the prestige of the county board and its members prompted me to submit my resignation at this point," he noted.

Partney's father, the late Donald Partney Sr., served as mayor for several terms that began in 1965 and 1969. Illness weakened his political strength and in 1973 he lost re-election bid to Mayor Paul Schuler.

Daniel Partney, a decorated Army veteran, was first elected to the Madison County Board in 1974.

He was the principal sponsor of county legislation which changed board members' pay from a per diem (each meeting) basis to annual salaries. He also emphasized cost-cutting in bidding and purchasing procedures.

He ran substantial campaigns in 1977 and 1981 against Schuler, stressing programs to retain industry and reduce unemployment. Schuler, however, was re-elected both times.

There had been speculation that Partney might try a third time for the Granite City mayor's post in 1983, but his statements Thursday seem to rule that out. "I don't think so. I have been down that road, and that's it," he told the Press-Record late Thursday morning.

Partney did not seek re-election to the county board this year. A successor will be elected Nov. 2 for a new term beginning Dec. 1.

Vasil Eftimoff, a Granite City school administrator, won the Democratic nomination for the county board in District 21 in the March 1982 primary election and is believed to be among those being considered for the appointment to complete Partney's term on the county board.

Eftimoff previously held elective office as a board member on the former Granite City High School Board and then on the board of Granite City School District Nine. He is retiring from his school job—administrative assistant for pupil personnel services—a year from now, on June 30, 1983.

Is Dan Partney out of politics for life? His statements to the Press-Record Thursday indicate strongly that he is. However, in his letter to Hagnauer he states, "Perhaps at some future date, I can again offer a contribution in the field of public service. It is my regretful conclusion at this juncture that I must take this step."

Rea said if the committee does not accept his June 23 invitation, he will not make an appointment for an in-house inspection but will honor a search warrant if one is issued.

"I'm willing to cooperate in any reasonable effort. But I don't consider forced inspections into any homes reasonable," he concluded.

The committee has conceded that an infiltration problem does exist in other areas of the district, and that inspections in other areas may be forthcoming. Sanitary sewers are designed to exclude any infiltration of water or sand.

unlikely. The chairman said residents living in the Maryville Road area are afraid that street might become "another fast-food restaurant area" like parts of Nameoki Road and Johnson Road.

Konzen said he discussed the possibility of locating a bank on Maryville Road with residents there and found no objections.

He also contacted the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, which assisted in preparing the current zoning ordinance. He noted that he was told C-4 is an appropriate classification for a banking facility.

Konzen said Granite City Trust would pay for any costs connected with the public hearing.

Special events at New Salem

The lifestyle of Illinoisans in the 1830s will be illustrated in a series of six monthly special events conducted by the Department of Conservation and the New Salem Volunteers group beginning in June at New Salem Park near Petersburg.

A New Salem Quilt Show will open the series from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 25 and 27. Heirloom quilts, contributed by volunteers and staff members, will be displayed on beds throughout the pioneer village.

Volunteers will recreate a typical pioneer summer day for the July 17 Summer Festival from noon to 5 p.m. Lincoln's Last Election will depict politics of that era from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 6. Volunteers will portray candidates for the State Legislature in the 1832 election and visitors will be able to cast a vote for their favorites at the polls.

New Salem's second annual Traditional Music and Bluegrass Festival is scheduled from noon to 5 p.m. Sept. 25. Visitors will be treated to the sounds of dulcimer, banjo and guitar during the afternoon event.

Seeking to expedite new SIUE gym

Permission was granted by the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday to request a release of Capital Development Bond funds for two projects to complete the multipurpose building at Edwardsville, if the funds are contained in the regular appropriation bill for fiscal year 1983 (July 1982 to June 1983).

The projects are for movable equipment, estimated to cost $788,200 and site development, estimated at $88,000. Each project had been previously approved by the board in the budget approval process.

University officers expressed that the action was taken by the board at its June session Thursday in Springfield because the Capital Development Board is expected to act on requests for release of funds at its July meeting.

They said initiation of the two projects as soon as possible is desirable to avoid further inflationary price increases in equipment prices, to permit sufficient time for deliveries, and to permit site work to proceed when appropriate to achieve completion of the multipurpose gymnasium building.

Action on the university's appropriation bill is expected by the General Assembly prior to June 1. If passed during the 1983 fiscal year, the multipurpose building has been under construction since May 1981.

The $11,800,000 project is on schedule and is expected to be completed early next year.

The building will have more than 100,000 square feet of usable space, including classrooms, a laboratory, faculty offices, a multipurpose gym, studios, specialized recreation facilities, training rooms, locker rooms and an indoor swimming pool.

The Illinois Hospital Association opposed the legislation, arguing that hospitals would shift the cost of publicly-subsidized patients to other patients if the authority were allowed to continue and exert its power to regulate hospital rates.

Federal and state governments would be allowed to reimburse hospitals for Medicare and Medicaid patients at a lower cost than what is borne by other patients, according to the Authority's rules.

The building will have more than 100,000 square feet of usable space, including classrooms, a laboratory, faculty offices, a multipurpose gym, studios, specialized recreation facilities, training rooms, locker rooms and an indoor swimming pool.

O'Fallon comes from behind, defeats GC Legion

SILHOUETTE. The sun sets on Glen Carbon American Legion pitcher Paul Barrington (top photo) as he closes the game for his team in Glen Carbon's loss to O'Fallon Thursday at Granite City North field.

By NANCY WEIL
A 5-0 lead in baseball is generally substantial enough to assure a team of victory, but for the Glen Carbon American Legion team, such a lead was just not enough against O'Fallon Thursday at Granite City High School North. Glen Carbon was defeated, 9-5, with O'Fallon tying the score in only one inning of strong hitting.

Scott Corey hit a three-run homer over the right field fence in the second to put Glen Carbon on top. In the third, Carl Luehmann scored on a single by Vince Mitchell and Brian Corey scored on a sacrifice by Brian Levin.

It was in the fourth that things started to fall apart. Glen Carbon coach, Larry Corey, decided to move Luehmann, who was pinch hitting for starting pitcher Sam Tate, to the mound. While Tate had pitched well, allowing only two hits, both singles, Corey planned to start him yesterday against Tri-City and felt he needed some rest.

Luehmann had immediate pitching problems, walking the first batter and giving up six hits among the next seven at bat.

"Pitching has been a problem," Coach Corey said. One pitcher had a sore back and Paul Barrington, who was brought in to get Glen Carbon out of the fourth, had a sore arm.

"We're down to three pitchers," Corey said. The team has had another disadvantage because several games have been rescheduled because of inclement weather. "We'll be playing five and six days in a row. We need half a dozen or so pitchers with that kind of schedule," he said.

O'Fallon's pitching was not especially strong, but with the five-run fourth inning and two runs in both the fifth and seventh, Glen Carbon just could not keep pace.

Phil Catalano led O'Fallon at bat going four for four. Still, he hit singles each time. A double by Fred Webb in the fourth was the biggest hit O'Fallon had. Glen Carbon seemed to become rattled shortly into O'Fallon's half of the fourth. For example, Catalano hit a single and two runs scored because Glen Carbon seemed to become rattled shortly into O'Fallon's half of the fourth. For example, Catalano hit a single and two runs scored because Glen Carbon center fielder, Dave Kaminski, batted the ball before he made the throw.

While the first four innings were errorless for Glen Carbon, they chalked up three before the end of the game.

Aside from a lack of pitching depth, Glen Carbon has a young team with most of the players still in high school. "It makes a big difference," Corey said. "But we're not down. We have been able to compete with any team so far."

The loss dropped Glen Carbon's record to 6-4. O'Fallon was 1-0 after the game.

Tri-City downs Glen Carbon, O'Fallon

It is not often that a pitcher leads a team in hitting, and during the same baseball game, works the opposition over from the mound.

Danny Patterson led just that yesterday for the Tri-City American Legion team batting five for five, with two homers and six RBIs as he went the distance for the win.

To add another twist to the game, Patterson's brother, Kevin, came in during the third inning to replace Sam Tate for Glen Carbon. It was probably an interesting evening in the Patterson household.

Glen Carbon has had pitching trouble during its first four games and yesterday was not any different as the team's record fell to 0-5 against a tough Tri-City team that not only hit well, but played a good defensive game.

Glen Carbon scored both its runs in the third after Tri-City scored three runs in both the first and second innings. Patterson hit in first two-run homer in the third. Mark Clark led the inning with a double before Patterson smashed the ball over the left center fence.

In the fifth, he took his next at bat and came home with a repeat performance. That was Tri-City's big inning with eight runs coming in to put the game out of Glen Carbon's reach. Coming into the inning with a 6-2 lead, George Jarvis reached on an error and crossed on a triple by Ricky Buer. Joe Schefke sacrificed to left field and Buer scored.

With two outs, Dave Modrusak reached on an error, stole second and went to third when Kevin Patterson tried to pick him off and threw the ball into center field. Clark walked and crossed the plate behind Modrusak when Mark Lusk hit a single.

Then it was Patterson's turn and he hit the ball down the left field line and over the fence. The rest, as they say, is history.

Jarvis doubled to score Darren DePew and Buer singled to score Jarvis. Just for good measure, Tri-City scored one more in the sixth inning.

With both teams being composed mostly of Granite Cityans, it is easy to assume some sort of rivalry exists. Not so, according to Al Yount, Tri-City manager.

"The only kind of rivalry was between Kevin and Danny," he said.

Saturday afternoon, Tri-City defeated O'Fallon, 6-5. At the end of the weekend Tri-City was 4-1 with a 2-1 league record.

Darien-Hinsdale wins AA baseball title 'Cinderella Tigers' fall in semi-finals

SPRINGFIELD — The hopes and dreams of a state baseball championship for the "Cinderella Tigers" of Edwardsville High School came to an abrupt end Saturday as Darien-Hinsdale defeated Edwardsville 12-2 in five innings in the semi-final round of Illinois High School Association action.

Darien-Hinsdale defeated Springfield-Griffin, 5-2, in the championship game to win the Class AA state title. Darien-Hinsdale finished the season 29-10, while the Tigers finished the season even 500 at 24-24.

In the other semi-final game, Springfield-Griffin defeated Dolton-Thornridge 8-2 to advance to the championship game against Darien-Hinsdale.

Edwardsville, a member of the Gateway East Conference, won the Granite City South Sectional last Wednesday with a 6-4 victory over Murphysboro.

Donaldson joins SIUE basketball camp

EDWARDSVILLE — James Donaldson, the 72 center of the National Basketball Association's Seattle SuperSonics, and Robert Brewer, one of the most successful collegiate basketball coaches in Scotland, have joined Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Head Coach Tom Pugliese's summer basketball camp staff.

The week-long camp, which will feature a June 20 session for the boys and a June 27 session for girls, is the first-ever overnight camp for the SIUE campus.

Donaldson, a 1979 graduate and All-Pacific 10 Conference performer at Washington State University, is coming off his second season with the SuperSonics. Joining Jack, Sikma as the only two members of the team to play in each game of the 1981-82 campaign, Donaldson completed the season as the team leader in blocked shots and field goal percentage.

He also ranks among the best of the NBA, finishing in the top 10 players in blocked shots and second in Chicago Bulls All-Star Artis Gilmore in the race to determine the field goal percentage leader. Twice last year, Donaldson collected at least 23 points and 15 rebounds in a single game, including an outstanding 18-rebound performance against the Houston Rockets.

Donaldson, who will help campers with their techniques around the basket, is also one of the biggest men in the NBA, checking in at 7'2" and 275 pounds.

Brewer, who will join Donaldson at both sessions of the camp, is recognized as one of the leading authorities on basketball in Scotland. The head coach at Jordan Hill College in Glasgow, Brewer has served on the selection committee of several national teams in

Champion Cougars sign two

EDWARDSVILLE — Kent Demars, the coach who recently led the tennis Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to an NCAA record-breaking fifth consecutive NCAA Division II national championship, has announced the signing of his first two recruits of the 1982 season.

Monty Oppenheim, a native of Morton Grove, and Johan Sjogren, one of the top-ranked junior players in Sweden, have signed SIUE letters of intent and will join the Cougars next fall when they begin preparations toward their sixth consecutive NCAA-II championship.

Oppenheim, regarded as the top junior player in Illinois, is currently ranked 16th nationally and second in the western section of the 18-year-old and under classification. A power-type player, Oppenheim came off a leg injury this year to earn his second consecutive berth and reached the quarterfinals of the Illinois High School State Championships.

During the 1981 season, after being the number one ranked player in the state throughout the year, Oppenheim finished second in the State Tournament. He is expected to tour the United States this summer as a member of the National Juniors circuit.

Sjogren, currently ranked the number four junior player in Sweden, comes to the United States as the highest ranked Swede in the NCAA. America's other two nationally ranked Swedish players recently completed the NCAA Division I Tournament with All-American credentials after being ranked seventh and ninth in Sweden.

Known for possessing an outstanding baseline game, Sjogren competed with SIUE's two-time national champion, Ken Flach, last year on the professional Dutch circuit and collected 12 professional points. He also comes from a family of outstanding tennis players. His father is currently acting as team captain of the Swedish Davis Cup Team. Although he will be forced to miss the American tour of the Davis Cup while competing in another tournament, the Swedish Davis Cup team will be in St. Louis, June 23-25, to play the U.S. Team.

International rugby competition aired

On June 19, the United States Eagles Rugby team will play the England National team at Dillon Stadium in Hartford, Conn., marking the first time these two national competitors meet on American soil.

So many American rugby fans, this may be the most important international test match the American team has ever played. The largest crowd ever to attend a rugby game in the United States is expected to be on hand for what is being called one of the biggest amateur sporting events of 1982.

The U.S. vs. England rugby test match airs Sunday, June 27 at 10:30 p.m. on KETC Channel 9.

The United States Eagles are among the best amateur rugby players in the country. Players for the United States Eagles team (or select sides) were chosen in May when the four U.S. regional teams met in Illinois for the national territorial championships.

The England National team will be touring the United States from May 30 through June 20. The tour culminates in the June 19 game against the Eagles at Dillon Stadium in Hartford, Conn.

Connecticut Public Television (CPTV) is producing the taped coverage of the June 19 match in association with the United States Rugby Football Union, the New England Rugby Football Union Inc., and the host team, the Hartford Wanderers Rugby Football, Inc. Executive producer for CPTV is Tedd Trameloni.

Corral, H-P fall to Civics in Saturday twinbill

By AL BARNES

For the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — The Southwestern Illinois Civics baseball team swept a doubleheader here Saturday afternoon at Fletcher Field by running by Highland-Pierson's Merchants, 5-1, in the opening nine inning game and then in a cliff-hanger, barely edging Corral Liquors of Granite City, 10-9, in a heavy hitting contest.

Sunday at Edwardsville's Hoppe Field, Manager Bobby Hughes' Civics were edged out after a gallant rally fell short, 7-6, in the opener of a twinbill and then by nearly blowing a 7-2 advantage, held on to win, 7-5.

The opponents in both games Sunday were a tough nine from Washington, Mo. The visiting Washington Buds breezed into their top of the final inning leading 7-1, when the Civics, after two were out, exploded for five runs on four consecutive singles (Darrel Wehrend, George Vogel, Bill Stoltz and Keith Hoskinson) and a grand slam fourbagger by their catcher, Rusty Hilgenkamp. Hoskinson's single had scored Wehrend to up the Civics' total to two.

But, Hilgenkamp's towering home run brought the losers to within one run of tying it up. Hilgenkamp, who starred for four years for the Southwest Missouri U. Bears, has a big-league throwing arm and appears to have his problems with the bat solved. He is thought to have a good chance, yet, of being drafted.

Hoskinson, catching the first game, gave the Civics a shortlived lead with a homer after two were out in the second frame. Bill Stoltz, an ex-SIU-E star outfielder, continued his hot hitting in the opener as he went three for four.

The Civics' Jerry Deml pitched three scoreless innings in relief of Belleville West's ex-mound ace, Jeff Gass. The fire-throwing Deml fanned five of the final 13 batters he faced and only allowed two scratch hits.

Incidentally, Gass was the victim of a five-run throwing error in the Civics' loss to the Buds. After setting down the first two hitters to face him in the second frame, the Washington club went on to score five times, with Jerry backs' double being the big blow of the miserable inning for the Civics.

It also took an amazing and not to say spectacular catch by the Buds' substitute left fielder, Ken Crisler, to rob Hilgenkamp of a four-bagger in the sixth frame. With Stoltz on base after one of his three singles, Hilgenkamp blasted one right straight at the foul pole in left Crisler, who had never played the outfield before, dashed frantically backward and at the last second flung up his glove hand just as the ball was about to leave the field ... fair.

In the second game, the Civics grabbed a four-run lead in the third inning and appeared to be breezing until the Buds' theatrics in the seventh inning.

Tom Hanson, an ex-Tiger from Edwardsville High who pitched the recent college year for Northern Kentucky U., had held the Buds at bay until the final frame, but, oh, that sad story, he lost his control and walked the first two men up.

The Buds' big burly catcher, Kent Brinker, blasted a two-one pitch at least 410 feet into center field and over the fence.

Suddenly, it is no longer a gasser for the Civics. Now, the Washington team is breathing hot down the Civics' necks. In comes lanky Jerry Deml, again to the rescue.

He got the first out, but only after a brilliant almost unbelievable play by Granite City's Kevin Sykes at second.

An oddity took place in the Civics' over Corral Saturday. After trying 10 swings in batting practice, their shortstop, John (Cookie) Victorian, went to bat hitting from the left side and blasted two triples and one fourbagger. He swears that he's never hit any other way but from the right side of the plate.

In that same game against the Granite City team, the Civics' outfielder from SIU-E, George Vogel, showed definitely that he has shook himself loose from an early slump as he went four-for-four, including a pair of triples, one double and a single.

Tonight the Civics will play the strong Belleville Buds at Granite City South's beautifully lighted field starting at 7:30 p.m.

Smith picks up fifth feature win

By JOE SENTER

Bo Smith of St. Charles, Mo., won his fifth Late Model Stock Car feature event in six starts, while Tom Corbin of Carrollton, Mo., took the Sprint Car feature event at the Tri-City Speedway Saturday night in Granite City.

The 22-year-old Bo Smith, driving the famous No. B-7 1982 Firebird Smith Super Fly Chassis, started on the outside of the front row and as the green flag came out Smith beat Ray Guss into the first turn. But Guss spun his 1982 Camaro No. 73 and was hit by Mike Crabtree as the yellow came out for a complete restart.

Again Smith beat Guss into the first turn and led the entire race for the win with Dick Taylor from Springfield, Ill. in second and Fred Strube in third.

This makes five wins out of six starts for Smith, only losing to Strube when his oil pump went bad after leading that race for seven laps.

On June 26 Bo Smith and Kevin Gundaker will have a match race.

Tom Corbin of Carrollton, Mo., ended a long dry spell when he won the Winged Sprint Car feature event. Corbin, driving the Derry & Son Ready Mix Chevy powered sprinter. Starting on the pole for the 20-lap event he dropped to second place behind Ron Standridge who led for nine laps but had to pull out with engine problems.

Kenny, who put on the best passing show of the night when he started in the 10th spot, finished a very close second behind Corbin in his No. 38 sprinter, built by the Gambler Chassis and powered by a Sago Chevy engine.

Next Saturday night, June 19, the races will be sponsored by the St. Louis Auto Racing Fan Club with Late Model Stock Cars and Winged Sprint Cars.

This Wednesday night, June 16, Tri-City will feature Outlaw Sprint Cars and M.A.R.A. Mighty Midgets with a $2,000 purse going to the sprint feature winner and $400 going to the midget feature winner.

Miss Karen Myracle of Granite City and another member of the St. Louis Football Cardinals "Big Red Line" cheering squad will be the trophy girls presenting trophies to the sprint car drivers and the midget drivers in a special race this Wednesday night, June 16, at Tri-City Speedway. The events are sponsored by Pantera's Pizza of Granite City.

GC students receive achievement awards

The United States Achievement Academy announced the winners of the 1982 United States National Award which include some Granite City high school students with special talent in certain fields. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can attain. The Academy recognizes less than five percent of all American high school students.

The selection is based on recommendations of teachers, coaches and counselors and upon the standards set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are the student's academic performance, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship and dependability.

The winners of the mathematics award are Richard E. Boyett, son of Mrs. Opal Boyett of Granite City and Theresa Lynn Counts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Counts of Granite City.

Those winning the physical education award are Richard D. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown of Granite City, Mary Ellen McIlvoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIlvoy and Kendall McKay and Kenneth Whittington.

Pamela Rowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Rowden of Granite City, is the winner of the cheerleading award.

Joe R. Hubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hubert of Granite City, is both a winner of the mathematics and physical education awards and Beverly Tester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tester of Granite City, won both the cheerleading and mathematics awards.

All of these winners are recent graduates of Granite City High School North.

Chamber to list laid-off workers

The May Willing Workers met recently at the Granite City Jaycee Hall. The organization's members, consisting of laid-off workers in the metropolitan area, have been meeting since January to assist each other in obtaining employment.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Alan Richardson, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Richardson spoke about the local high unemployment and the fact that it is not unique to this area. The metropolitan area has continued to lose its manufacturing base which has caused a reduction in the number of jobs now available in local factories.

However, the area is not taking a wait and see attitude he said. Groups have been formed to aggressively market the area, to correct income problems, to gather relevant information that new businesses need when locating here and to provide the opportunity for business, labor, government, and other representatives to voice their opinions.

Richardson encouraged the group to write the congressmen regarding the economic situation as it pertains to high unemployment rates in the area. Richardson also said that he would keep members names and qualifications on record so that businesses in the area and those interested in moving here would be able of the available labor force. Rather than calling the Chamber, all laid-off workers interested in being listed with the Chamber of Commerce should attend the next meeting on June 28 at the Granite City Jaycee Hall on Poplar Street or call Brenda Derby at 876-2382 Monday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Other business included the exchange of job leads and information regarding a job workshop which was presented by the Metropolitan Re-employment Project June 4.

RELEASE GC MAN TO STATE AUTHORITIES
After a resident in the 2600 block of Iowa Street called police and reported seeing a man near a house and heard glass breaking, an officer was dispatched to the area. The man was seen walking toward the street from the dwelling and took him into custody late last week.

Walsh was charged with criminal damage to property and was turned over to an officer of the Illinois Department of Corrections.

Six Mile group looks back to Lincoln Place, ahead to 1983

About 35 persons attended the June meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society at the Tri-Mor Bowl meeting room last week. Newly elected president Don Gargie presided and charter membership was granted to Bruce Sigrist, manager of Tri-Mor Bowl.

Attorney Marvin Barnes, acting for the Kiwanis Club, made a presentation to Mrs. Mary Jesse. A $200 check was given by the Kiwanis to the Historical Society as a memorial to her late husband, Allen Jesse.

Mrs. Loraine Bischoff reported that signed contracts are coming in for space rental at the antique show to be held Oct. 23-24 in the cafeteria area of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. Gargie asked that persons interested in serving on particular committees for this year, the group's second year, to contact him.

Even though there will be no membership meetings until September, committees will meet and set their goals for the coming year.

The program chairman, Mrs. Georgia Engle, introduced Vasil Efthimoff, who spoke on the Lincoln Place area of Granite City. His topic was "Why Are We Here?"

Political circumstances existing in Europe in the late 1800s and early 1900s brought many Eastern Europeans to America—from Macedonia, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Poland and Hungary.

In 1907, there were 10,000 people from Macedonia and Bulgaria in this metropolitan area, and half of that number was on this side of the Mississippi River.

"Because of the language barrier, these people developed a strong union among themselves. They had their national pride and family loyalties," Efthimoff noted.

"Between 1910-1914, the Armenians came, and they were generally males. Later, they brought over families and wives. The first Armenians here lived on State Street."

"All of these emigrants came to work. In addition to working in plants, many also worked in building the railroads, toiling on section gangs."

The speaker cited many familiar family names that the audience knew.

The first Armenian Apostolic Church in America was established in Lincoln Place, and it is still there.

After the families were united here with their own church, their next emphasis was on education, it was related.

All of those present who knew about Lincoln Place agreed there was a major force behind the educational movement. Miss Sophia Prather, a teacher at Washington School for two or three years before she began her "missionary work" in Lincoln Place.

She taught everyone she could read and write English, and encouraged them to put aside regional or national differences.

"She was a strong integrationist and was greatly influenced and helped by the Methodist Church," Efthimoff said.

"Miss Prather was a charter member of the local Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and diligently worked on the citizenship goals promoted by the DAR."

Many in the audience said Miss Prather encouraged their parents and them to study to become U.S. citizens, and added that she signed all their applications for citizenship.

Credit was given to Clarence Howard of the Commonwealth steel plant for his efforts in getting the local community to organize a club.

Materials were donated and the residents built a community center. It was finished in 1922.

The speaker said, "Miss Prather was there teaching Sunday School, having Bible schools, and always stressing the values of good citizenship."

"They had athletics and citizenship classes."

"Even though Miss Prather left in 1936 or '37, she had their values established. Their education continued. On her low salary, she still managed to buy tennis shoes for the gymnasium team."

"But you did not just take those tennis shoes for granted. If you wanted to play on the team, you had to sweep the floor in order to get to borrow a pair of shoes."

"Lincoln Place had seven of the 10 players on the 1940 state championship basketball team. The general schooling pattern for those players was Washington School, Central School and the High School."

"All members of the team went on to serve in World War II."

Before World War II, the persons of Mexican descent in the local area generally did not go beyond high school. Since the Joseph Gonzalez Scholarship Fund has been established, over 20 persons have completed college.

"For persons coming from these close family backgrounds in Lincoln Place, the rate of incarceration is perhaps the lowest of any group in the community. Very few in the past 70 years have gone to prison."

"Even though many persons have left Lincoln Place, they are still located throughout this area. Lincoln Place has produced lawyers, teachers, engineers and businessmen."

Commenting about the nickname associated with the area, it is now supposed that Hungary Hollow was derived from the settlement of those from the country of Hungary.

By slurring syllables of the name, it came out "Hungry Hollow," the gathering was told.

Again, Miss Prather exerted influence and suggested that all call the area by a different name—Lincoln Place.

Before the name change, newsmen called the area "the Hollow."

Students from the "Hollow" had daily non-time fights with other students, several members of the audience recalled.

Commenting on Miss Prather, someone said she was a very private person, but "everyone else came before her."

"Her many accomplishments were remembered with love by those who were exposed to her teaching," Efthimoff

Mrs. Monk, who was in the process of moving to Bissell Street, said the items were gone when she returned to pick up the rest of her belongings at the Weaver address.

Rees to speak on real estate investments here

The book "How I Made Over $50,000 in Real Estate with No Cash" is the subject of a two hour real estate presentation by its author Tom Rees. Rees will discuss the step-by-step process he used in selecting and purchasing real estate investments in the Granite City area. He will cover pitfalls to watch for and techniques he uses in managing and maintaining investment properties.

Rees, the owner of several rental investment properties in this area, has resided in Granite City for 15 years. He received his degree in mass communications with a minor in marketing from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. His real estate background includes completion of the exclusive Lowry-Nicholson Real Estate investment program and speaking on Tax Shelter-Income properties before professional groups. Rees currently is sales manager of retail advertising for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The free meeting, which is open to the public, will be in the offices of Realty World Star, Inc., from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, June 15. Due to limited seating, reservations should be made in advance by calling 876-0024.

New method makes seawater drinkable

A new method of producing unpolluted drinking water at sea has been developed by Norwegian researchers. Water is forced at a pressure of 750 to 800 pounds per square inch through a membrane only 1-36 millionth of an inch thick.

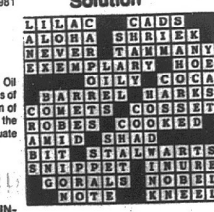

Salt and impurities are strained out, most of the bacteria are killed, and the resulting drinking water meets all normal standards. An electrically driven high-pressure pump is the system's only moving part.

Bill Talbert knows how to help
 during a disaster.

Do you?

Bill is an auto mechanic. He's also a Red Cross Disaster service volunteer.

Last year, Red Cross volunteers, like Bill, responded to over 40,000 disaster situations requiring on-the-scene assistance. More than 136,000 families were helped.

"Fortunately, floods, hurricanes and tornadoes don't happen every day, but fires do," warns Bill. "And for a burned-out family that's a major disaster. We can help these people obtain the things they'll need to resume normal living."

Red Cross emergency disaster relief provides everything from food, clothing and a place to stay to first aid, counseling and communications.

If your neighbors were burned out of their home, wouldn't you want to help?

We'll show you how.
 Join us.

Together, we can change things.
